Beware of New Phishing Scam

Scotiabank Trinidad and Tobago advises customers of unauthorized text messages being circulated in the public domain requesting confidential bank information. These messages are fraudulent and considered "phishing".

If you receive these text messages, never respond, open attachments or click on links. We recommend that you delete these messages.

Always remember that Scotiabank will never send you unsolicited text messages asking for your ATM pin or online password.

If you have entered your personal information after clicking on a link or suspect fraudulent behavior, please call us immediately at 62-SCOTIA (627-2684).
